New map of COVID-19 vaccine rates by town

You can now see a new Vermont data map that shows COVID-19 vaccine rates by town! The interactive map reflects percent of Vermonters aged 12 and older who have received at least one dose of COVID-19 vaccine. The map will be updated weekly on Thursdays, and features will be added in the coming weeks.

Vaccine opportunities available where Vermonters live, work and play

Vermont continues to add walk-in and other opportunities at worksites, places of worship, libraries, mobile home parks and other locations and special events. The rained-out Thunder Road clinic, originally set for this past Sunday as part of the Memorial Day Classic, has been rescheduled for Friday, June 4.

Some primary care practices are also starting to offer vaccine, so if you've been waiting to get vaccinated by your own health care provider, you may want to ask if they are participating.

Vermont employers, health and service organizations, community groups and others who want to host or request a vaccination clinic are encouraged to send in this online Vaccine Clinic Request Form.

You can find a convenient place to get your shot at healthvermont.gov/MyVaccine. Tell your friends and family, too. Spread the word, not Covid!
